

FACILITY OVERVIEW

Colby Hill Inn was built in 1797 as a private residence and became a working farm in the 1820s with up to 200 acres at one time. It was established as an inn in 1959 and currently consists of 5 acres that include meadows with heirloom apple trees; organic culinary gardens; a smaller barn that contains our “Goat Bar” for outdoor events; a gazebo; patio for outdoor dining; perennial gardens; an in-ground swimming pool; stables for four goats and a chicken coop. The main inn has two parlors, one more formal with a fireplace and the other serves as a library and television/game room.

Event Barn. In 2017, we renovated our larger barn, which dates back to the 1840s, to hold events for up to 130 guests. The barn has a dance floor, bar, two bathrooms, a photo booth and a bandstand which can also serve as a dj booth or lounge space. There are two levels for dining tables (up to 80 on the Mezzanine Level and an additional 50 on first floor).

The Barn is rented in as is condition. The Barn does have several ceiling fans, but it is not heated nor do we have plans to heat the barn (commercial non-flame producing heaters may be rented by the Event Sponsor at additional costs).

The Inn also operates a farm-to-table restaurant named The Grazing Room under the direction of Chef Proprietor Bruce Barnes, formerly the Senior Executive Chef at the World Bank in Washington, D.C. and the owner of two restaurants in the East Village in the 1990s. The Grazing Room has seating for 60 guests plus 12 on the patio. The restaurant does provide the Henniker Dining room as a private dining room which holds up to 26 for rehearsal dinners; or, the front Garden Dining Room holds 30.

Our Henniker, New Hampshire, inn faces the Contoocook River and is located nearly in the geographic center of New England making it the ideal central spot for bringing together friends and family for private events. Our Inn sits at one end of the 30-mile Currier & Ives Scenic Byway – bring a bike or take a slow scenic drive with great stops along the way. Additionally, there are many outdoor and cultural activities within a 20 to 30-minute drive, including the Lake Sunapee region as well as the cities of Concord and Manchester. We are exactly 90 minutes north of Boston.
